JAPANESE COMPLETE WUHAN OCCUPATION

Warships Control River: Main Body Of Land Forces Not Yet Arrived

Americans Safe In Wuchang

Hankow, October 26.
THE JAPANESE TO-DAY COMPLETED THE OCCUPATION OF WUHAN. Their warships control the river and their soldiers the three cities of Hankow, Hanyang and Wuchang.

The main body of the Japanese land forces, however, has not yet arrived. Twenty-six Japanese vessels are at present in the river, comprising 12 transports, six torpedo boats, three gunboats, four net layers, and one mine layer in addition to numerous small craft.

About 20 Americans, who are in Wuchang, are safe. Last night, when Mr. Logan Roots, son of Bishop Roots, telephoned the U.S. Consul-General here, he declared that the situation in Wuchang was calm despite occasional fires and explosions.

Walking along the Bund to-day, Reuter's correspondent saw Mrs. Simms Lee, American wife of a British clergyman, together with another foreign woman, assist a broken-down and ill Chinese soldier across the road. A passing naval patrol commandeered a nearby pushcart, on which they placed the soldier and dispatched him to hospital.

SIR ARCHIBALD CLARK KERR

Possible Meeting With Chiang

London, Oct. 26.
The Foreign Office states that the British Ambassador in China, Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, has left Hongkong for Yunnanfu where he is expected to arrive on Wednesday evening. Part of the journey was made on board a British gunboat and the remainder by air. It is further stated that the Ambassador may possibly meet Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

It is stressed, in this connection, that the Ambassador's journey had been planned some time ago and that it is consequently not to be regarded as the result of the latest military developments.

The Ambassador, it is emphasized, has no instructions concerning possible peace negotiations. Political circles here, nevertheless, believe that if the Ambassador meets Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek the question of peace negotiations will be discussed.—Trans-ocean.

C.N.A.C. PLANE MAKES EPIC LAST FLIGHT FROM HANKOW

Journey To Chungking By Light Of Burning City

Chungking, October 26.
THE EPIC STORY of how the last C.N.A.C. plane left Hankow for Chungking by the light of the burning city last night, while Japanese troops were actually inside Hankow, was revealed here to-day.

A flying boat yesterday afternoon flew to Hankow in order to pick up the C.N.A.C. staff there who stuck at their posts till the last moment.

The Chinese pilot arrived safely, but found the city burning. He picked up his passengers, but as the plane was not equipped for night flying he stood by to wait for dawn before leaving for Chungking.

During the evening, the heat of the burning buildings grew so intense that he feared the machine might be endangered. He also learned that the Japanese troops were actually in the city.

He took off on the Yangtze, therefore, by the light of the flames, and flew as far as 120 miles up river, where he landed in the river in pitch darkness.

This climaxed a week of strenuous effort to evacuate as many

EGYPT TO BUILD FLEET OF 36 VESSELS

Cairo, Oct. 26.
The Egyptian Government has decided to build a fleet of 36 vessels, comprising light cruisers, submarines and mine layers, at a cost of £2,500,000. The construction will take two years.

It is stated that this fleet will be able to protect the Egyptian coast if the British fleet happens to be away.—Reuter.

White Race Harder Hit Than China

FRENCH PRESS AND HANKOW FALL

Paris, Oct. 26.
"The second defeated party harder hit than China herself should be able to protect the paper 'L'Epoque' commenting on the fall of Hankow, the repercussions of which will be 'immense throughout Asia.' 'Petit Journal' is equally gloomy and comments that there must still be some people in France who have some knowledge of geography to know that Indo-China is not far from China.

They will recall that disunity in the great Western Powers always favoured the daring attempts of the Japanese united behind the Emperor and military leaders.

"Le Jour" also points to this "moral" of believing that Europe will still play a big part in China if she put an end to her own quarrels.

The paper adds that if Japan can win a victory over herself she stands to win much.

The paper concludes that neither Britain nor Europe have yet lost everything.—Reuter.

$2,400 Robbery At Central Shop

BUTCHERS' KNIVES PRODUCED BY INTRUDERS

THE YING MEI TEA DEALERS, of 20, Mercer Street, were the victims of a daring armed robbery yesterday evening when, at eight o'clock, two men, armed with butchers' knives, bound and gagged the 48-year-old managing partner, Li Pak-sun, took from his person the keys to the safe, and left with $2,400 in banknotes. Two store foks, Chan Yik and Leung Yee, are also reported missing since the robbery.

A man named Cheng Ho, who was on the first floor of the store when the robbers entered, brought three Indian police constables to the scene of the crime.

They released Li and several foks, whom they found bound and gagged on the second floor of the building.

In his statement to the police, Li related that he was on the verandah of the first floor when he saw two men being admitted by Chan Yik, one of the missing foks. The three went up the stairs to the second floor.

About ten minutes later the three men came down again. The two robbers were armed with butchers' knives. One of them plinked his arms as the other took hold of his neck. They gagged him with a piece of bamboo attached to a string and tied his wrists with wire behind his back.

One of the robbers cut off two keys from his girdle. He was then pushed into the kitchen. Chan Yik, the fok, paced about the floor, but did not take any part in binding him.

Fifteen minutes later Cheng Ho arrived with the three Indian constables. Released, Li examined the safe where he found the key in the lock, the safe open, and the money missing.

London, Oct. 26.
Contrevent, ridden by Tucker, a 100 to 1 chance, to-day won the Cesarewitch run at Newmarket beating Dubonnet (Gordon Richards) by one-and-a-half lengths, the same distance separating the second horse from Pet (E. Smith) which came third, in a field of 28 starters.

The betting on Dubonnet was 100 to 7 and Pet, which won the race in 1936, 9 to 1.—Reuter.

Lloyd George Breaks Long Silence At City Temple

London, October 26.
MR. DAVID LLOYD GEORGE, the former Liberal Prime Minister, broke a long silence when speaking at the City Temple.

The famous statesman declared that the relief experienced after the Munich Agreement was now beginning to be sufficed with a sense of shame that peace had been purchased for the price of conscience and honour.

Speaking of Czechoslovakia, Mr. Lloyd George said: "We handed over a little democratic State in Central Europe, wrapped in a Union Jack and tri-colour, to a ruthless dictator who would deny freedom both to Czechs and Germans alike."

Dealing with Abyssinia, China and Czechoslovakia, the former Prime Minister said:

"We have descended, during these years, the ladder of dishonour rung by rung—can we go any further?"

Mr. Lloyd George added: "We all shared in the short thrill of relief which passed through the country when we realised that we had been spared, at any rate for some time, the horror and squalor of war, but we have lost the honour we have not gained in tranquillity."—Reuter.

POSTMAN FACES THREE COUNTS

Conspiracy To Steal Letters Alleged

SHADOWED BY CONSTABLE

Committal proceedings were commenced against three men before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday charged in connection with the theft of a mail bag and letters, the property of the Postmaster-General.

The defendants were: Tse Kai-ming, a postman, charged with unlawful opening of a mail bag on October 6, larceny of 28 letters and conspiracy to steal letters; Ho Kai-ming, alias Chui Sai-chu, accused of the possession of forged dies intended to resemble dies used for sealing mail bags, and conspiracy to steal letters, and Ho Fong, accused of conspiracy to steal letters.

Detective-Inspector L. R. Whant was in charge of the case.

It was stated that Tse Kai-ming, postman No. 194, joined the Post Office in November, 1937, as a mail collee. He met with a traffic accident at the beginning of this year and when discharged from hospital, in May he was given light duties, such as sorting letters to be dispatched to different districts.

MAIL BAG SEALED

On the evening of October 6 defendant left the Post Office with a mail bag containing letters, which he was detailed to take to the West Point branch office. The mail bag was tied and sealed, the sealing being done by defendant, under the supervision of a clerk, Mr. Ip Hon-sang.

Inspector Whant said that acting on information he detailed a constable to shadow Tse. The constable was stationed in Queen Victoria Street.

Shortly after 6 p.m. the constable saw defendant coming from Des Voeux Road and turn into Queen Victoria Street with the mail bag on his shoulder. Walking a few paces behind him was third defendant, Ho Fong, who remained on the pavement as Tse went up the stairs of No. 9, Queen Victoria Street.

FLOOR RAIDED

The constable, after Tse had disappeared up the staircase, took Ho Fong into custody, and not long after Inspector Whant and Detective-Sergeant E. Franklin raided the second floor of No. 9, Queen Victoria Street, on a warrant.

Inspector Whant said that on entering the rear cubicle he found Tse sitting on a stool with 28 letters on his knees. The cubicle was partly an opium divan, and second defendant, Ho Kai-ming, was sitting at one end of the bed, watching Tse counting the letters. Tse was dressed in postman uniform, but without his collar number plates, which were found in his pockets. On the bed was found several lead seals unpressed, and a hand press, and the mail bag which was opened.

Tse was taken back to the General Post Office by Sergeant Franklin.

LETTERS FOR KOWLOON

The letters contained in the mail bag were chiefly for Shekai district, but the 28 letters which were found on Tse, were addressed to Kowloon, and such letters should not have been included in the bag.

The 28 letters were dispatched personally by Mr. Woodier, Inspector of Postmen, with signatures of Inspector Whant and a post office official, and the envelopes of which were later collected as exhibits. Meanwhile the posts for Shekai were dispatched as they could not be withheld.

Evidence was given by Inspector Whant, Sergeant Franklin and Post Office officials after which the hearing was adjourned to this afternoon.

GENERAL

Youth Gaoled For Attack On Aged Mother

Charged with assault on his aged mother and others an unemployed youth named Mak Ho was yesterday sentenced to four months' hard labour by Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court.

Police said that Mak was a well-known character in the Wanchai district. He had been brought to the police station on several occasions for striking his parents and had been warned by the police on each occasion.

It was said that defendant demanded a sum of money from his mother on Tuesday. Upon refusal, he attacked the aged lady, knocking her about and throwing stools and pieces of wood at her.

Mak Tak, the father, who arrived home just then, witnessed the assault and went to his wife's assistance, but was also assaulted by defendant. Yung Chun-hing, a fellow lodger, who came to intervene, was also wounded by the defendant. Finally the neighbour urged Mak Tak to report the incident, and defendant was taken to the station by police officers.

THEFT OF CAMERA FROM CAR

Mrs. J. L. Wilson, of St. John's Cathedral, is the "unknown person" mentioned in yesterday's "Daily Press," who lost a Kodak camera from her car, parked outside the Central Radio Service shop in Nathan Road, on Saturday.

The vigilance of an Indian police constable was rewarded when he saw Yuen Kau, 20-year-old, in possession of a camera in Canton Road.

Yuen admitted the larceny and told of having taken the camera from a parked car. Mr. E. Hmsworth, at the Kowloon Court yesterday, passed sentence of two months' hard labour.

WEEK'S TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

In the Colony during the week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, there were 73 traffic accidents as the result of which three persons were killed and 37 injured.

Of the persons killed, two Chinese boys, aged seven and 11 respectively, were knocked down and killed by private motor cars whilst running across the road.

A Chinese female, aged about 30, was knocked down and killed by a motor bus whilst walking across the road.

ALLEGED ASSAULT BY DETECTIVE

Allegations that he had been forced into a confession of larceny of $30 by a Chinese detective, Lo Yu-cheung, who had hit him with a stick and otherwise frightened him into pleading guilty to an offence he had not committed were made by Leung Po, 20-year-old car cleaner, before Mr. Q. A. A. yesterday.

Leung claimed that the detective assaulted him in the presence of his master and another man, before taking him to a police station. Mr. Hin-shing Lo is defending Leung. Witnesses for the defence will be heard to-morrow afternoon.

THE SUN COMPANY SUMMONED

The Sun Company, Ltd. was summoned before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday for possession for sale or trade of abalone and labels to which there was a mark so nearly resembling the trade mark of the Fung Wai Hing firm as to be calculated to deceive.

The summons was adjourned till November 2.

TRESPASS CHARGE

Chan Mai-nam, unemployed, was fined $10 or two weeks' imprisonment by Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday for trespassing on military ground on Tuesday.

COLLISION AT JUNCTION

Two Cars Badly Damaged

DRIVERS ESCAPE INJURY

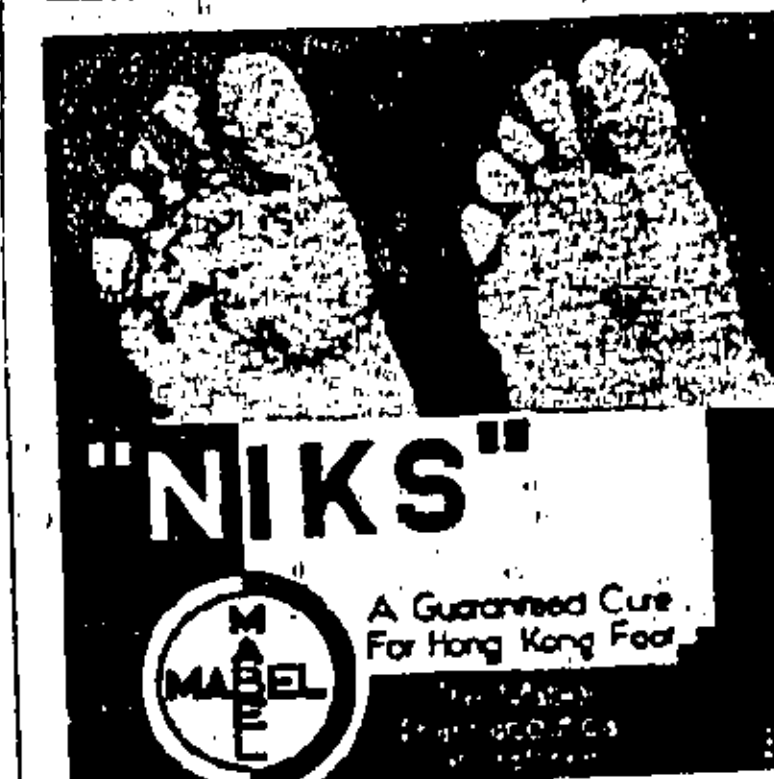

As the result of a collision shortly after noon yesterday at the junction of Kennedy Road and Garden Road, two cars were damaged.

The cars involved were No. 3587, driven by Mr. H. H. Mundy of Messrs. Dodwell and Co., Ltd., and No. 3553, driven by Miss Fung Ting, of Park Road.

Mr. Mundy was travelling down Garden Road while Miss Fung Ting was driving along Upper Albert Road intending to go across Garden Road into Kennedy Road. Following a collision at the junction, Mr. Mundy's car was overturned and badly damaged while the other car, a new saloon, was extensively damaged in the region of the radiator.

The Chinese constable on point duty was knocked down and received injuries to the right leg.

Both drivers escaped without any serious injury.

FOR YOUR PICNIC BASKET SAVOURY MEALS

Now that the weather is fine, they are substantial and tasty. This is how I make them—suitable for six people.

Ingredients: 1lb. short crust pastry, 1lb. Steak, 2 potatoes, 2 small onions, salt and pepper.

Cut the meat and vegetables into small cubes, season with pepper and salt.

Roll out the pastry, cut into thick rounds, put a heaped tablespoon of the meat mixture on one half of each round. Moisten the edges and fold over.

Pinch the edges and bake on a solid shelf in a moderate oven for three-quarters of an hour.

When cold, wrap each pastry separately in parchment paper. Serve with a cupful of tomato soup.

Many people like mixed chutney with Cornish pasty. Remember the small fork for this when packing the hamper.

Sausages on sticks add to the enjoyment of an alfresco meal. Grill or fry 1-lb. pork sausages until well browned, leave until cold, then wrap each in parchment paper and enclose a small wooden prong.

TEA AND COFFEE

Children usually like milk, but I find that grown-ups remain faithful to their cup of tea or coffee.

Make tea in the ordinary way, but do not add the milk and sugar. Take a small bottle of milk and a few lumps of sugar separately.

Milky coffee is best poured into the flask. For six people you will require two medium-sized flasks, as picnicers have a way of getting thirsty.

Put four tablespoonfuls of freshly ground coffee into a warmed earthenware jug. Pour over 14 pints boiling water, stir well, then leave to stand for three minutes.

Pour a little into a cup, return it to the jug, then repeat once more. Leave to stand for a few minutes, then half-fill each flask, and fill up with hot, not boiling, milk.

CORNISH PASTIES

Now for the "cater" Cornish pasties make an ideal start off, as in a liberal filling. Let each variety have a small label bearing its name, as this will save much passing to and fro.

SAVOURY SHRIMP

Season a pint of ready-picked shrimps with a few drops of lemon juice, then place on buttered bread. If liked, the shrimps can be first spread on a shredded lettuce leaf, then sprinkled with chopped—hard-boiled—egg and placed between slices of buttered bread.

MIXED VEGETABLE

Salad sandwiches appeal to outdoor appetites.

Cut some thin pieces of bread and butter. Arrange on one piece some shredded lettuce, then two or three rings of skinned tomato and cucumber.

Grate over a little cheese, season with salt, pepper and mustard, then sprinkle with salad cream. Form into a sandwich and cut into triangles.

If liked, a suspicion of chopped chives can be added.

FRUIT FILLINGS

Banana and orange juice combine to make a refreshing fruit filling.

Mash the banana with a little caster sugar and orange juice, then spread on fruit bread and butter.

FRUIT JELLIES

Small fruit jellies made in cartons travel well and are enjoyed by both grown-ups and children.

Dissolve an orange jelly in just under 2 pint water, then add the juice from a tin of mandarins.

When the jelly has quite dissolved, pour a little in the bottom of the cartons, then leave to set. Arrange a few sections of mandarins on the jelly, then cover with more jelly and leave to set. Decorate with a blanched almond, or a halved walnut. To pack, secure a piece of cellophane paper over the top with an elastic band.

APETISING SANDWICHES

A variety of fillings for the sandwiches is sure to please.

Choose square sandwich loaves, fresh, but not too new, or bridge rolls make a change.

Cream the butter so that it spreads easily and evenly, and put

Cooked in a Casserole

MUTTON AND CAPERS

A nourishing cold-day meal.

Place 1lb. neck of mutton, first dividing it into pieces, in a casserole, add three or four sliced onions and a few capers or pickled nasturtium seeds. Season, then cover with cold water.

Stew gently for two hours in a moderate oven then add three or four skinned tomatoes. When these are cooked, serve with a dish of mashed potatoes.

VEGETARIAN MEDLEY

A savoury hot-pot from the vegetable garden.

Ingredients: Three diced carrots, one diced turnip, two cupfuls chopped cauliflower or cabbage, one cupful diced potatoes, one cupful chopped celery, salt and pepper, one cupful milk, two cupfuls water, a nut of butter, and a tablespoonful of flour.

Cook the vegetables in slightly salted water until just tender, then strain and put into a lightly greased pan.

Season, add the milk and water and cook gently for twenty minutes. Thicken with the flour and butter, and cook for a few minutes longer.

Serve with plain boiled rice.

CURRIED CORN

A tin of sweet corn provides an excellent meal—and brings a pleasant change to the menu. It can be kept hot for the late comers, and even reheated in the evening.

Melt a nut of margarine in a saucepan, then add the contents of a tin of sweet corn, a chopped onion, two cooked, diced carrots, a pinch of mixed herbs, salt and pepper.

Stir in a cupful of stock, a teaspoonful of curry powder blended with vinegar, and a cupful chopped celery.

Simmer until the vegetables are soft, adding more stock if required, thicken with cornflour, blended with milk, then serve with fried bread.

PORK HOT-POT

Now is the time to try pork hot-pot.

Peel, core and slice 1lb. apples and put them into a casserole with two cloves.

Take 1lb. fresh pork or the cold, roast meat may be used, cut it in pieces and dip in seasoned flour. Fry with two sliced onions until browned on both sides.

Add the pork and onions to the apples, cover with stock or gravy and cook in a moderate oven for two hours.

Half an hour before dishing, dust over lightly with powdered sage.

BACON AND BEANS

A popular supper dish is made with beans and bacon.

Grill three or four rashers of bacon, then grill four halved tomatoes, removing the skins after they are cooked.

Place bacon and tomatoes in a casserole. Pour over the contents of a tin of baked beans, add a meat cube dissolved in a cupful of hot water then cook gently for twenty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve on toast or fried bread.

SNUBBED!

It is no great secret that the Foreign Office "permanents" whatever may be Lord Halifax's sensations, feel they have been severely snubbed by the present Prime Minister.

From the moment he took over from Earl Baldwin, Mr. Chamberlain asserted his independence of the F. O. and showed his distrust of its tradition. It was this attitude on his part that led to Mr. Anthony Eden's departure from Downing Street.

During the recent critical international negotiations, Mr. Chamberlain either acted off his own bat, or through the Ambassador primarily concerned.

When it came to the final Hitler negotiations it was Sir Horace Wilson, and not Sir Robert Vansittart, to whom the Prime Minister entrusted his special confidences and his missionary work. (Nottingham Guardian.)

In summing up, Mr. Justice Wrottesley said that Walker had been dealing with the delegation of a friendly Power, but for the purpose of the charge it did not matter whether it was a friendly Power or not.

whether he would help them; in buying in this country. He replied that he would. He said that he had earned £5 a week, "and the member replied, 'I think I could make it £8.'"

NO SECRECY

He saw Burch at first to get the address of two men who owed him money. He never made the slightest secrecy about his negotiations with the Russian Trade Delegation.

Burch mentioned that he was working on the fuse-setter casting, and he remarked to Burch, "I could do with borrowing that drawing" for an hour or two. Burch replied, "All right, I will bring it out for you."

Mr. Gunning: Did you say anything about being an agent for various foreign Powers?—No.

Did you say you took drawings to a boat on the Thames, that no questions were asked, and that you then took the drawings to the Russian Research at Moscow, via the Kiel Canal?—No.

Walker added that the explanation he had given in his statement with regard to the plan was true. He had never had any idea of using it against the safety of the State.

Mr. Byrne, prosecuting, asked how it came about that in his notebook Walker had written down four matters and the initials of a laboratory where tests and experiments were actually going on with regard to these matters.

ASKED ABOUT INSTRUMENTS

Walker replied that the Russians asked him questions about the four things. They also asked him what he knew about instruments made at the National Phy-

NEW OUTLOOK IN MEDICINE

Tackling Causes Of Disease

Sir Henry Dale, Director of the National Institute for Medical Research, told the students at Guy's Hospital Medical School recently that they were entering the profession at a time of exciting and even revolutionary change and progress.

Referring to recent triumphs in synthetic chemistry, Sir Henry said: "Synthetic substances are coming to hand which deal radically with the causes of disease, and do not merely modify or moderate the resulting symptoms. This is a change which seems to me certain to continue and to become more rapid."

"The future which I foresee for medicine is one of continued and accelerated development into an experimental science."

PERSONAL TOUCH

"You may hear it said that the personal touch and intimate sympathy between doctor and patient are doomed or threatened. I see no reason for believing that to be so, though they may come to occupy less of the picture, as the doctor can make other and more effective contributions to the cure."

"Surely there could be no firmer basis of confidence between doctor and patient than a shared conviction that medicine is advancing as a science, and that its growing resources are being used to the full in discovering and treating the cause of the trouble."

"If we can look forward to the time when the man in ordinary practice will be able to recognise, anticipate and deal with causes of vague and chronic ailments which bear no diagnostic labels and seldom reach the hospitals, then, indeed, I believe that the future of medicine is bright with the hope of better service to the health of mankind."

Three Years For Securing Secret Vickers Plan

JUDGE CENSURES EX-ARMS WORKER

Sentence of three years' penal servitude was passed at the Old Bailey recently on Robinson Walker, 49, a former employee of Vickers-Armstrongs, of Brentwood-road, Romford, Essex. He was found guilty under the Official Secrets Act of obtaining a plan likely to be useful to an enemy of the State and of persuading another to show him the plan.

In passing sentence, Mr. Justice Wrottesley said: "Recent events show the possibility of war has not yet gone out of fashion. What you were trying to do was to trade on the safety of your fellow men, women and children, in case war broke out. It is about the most disgraceful occupation that an Englishman can follow."

It was alleged that Walker asked John Frederick Burch, an inspector at Vickers-Armstrongs's works, Crayford, Kent, to get him drawings of a fuse-setter. Acting under instructions, Mr. Burch took a plan to Walker, who was arrested with it on leaving the house.

PATENTED INVENTIONS

Walker was stated to have told Mr. Burch that he was an agent for Germany, Italy and Soviet Russia. He was also alleged to have made a statement in which he said that he merely wanted to look at the plan as he thought he could improve the design and would then have offered it to the War Office or Vickers.

Walker, giving evidence, said that he had patented inventions, some of which had been successful.

In April, 1937, the War Office turned down his mobile pressure lift and he offered it to manufacturers, including Vickers. He wrote to Arcos, the Russian Trade Delegation, at Bush House, and received a reply.

Mr. Gunning (for Walker): Is there the slightest truth in the suggestion that you have been employed in espionage for 15 years for various foreign countries?—Never.

Walker said that he interviewed a member of Arcos, who asked

Jam Layer Pudding

Sift four ounces of flour into a bowl with a pinch of salt. Rub in an ounce of butter, add an ounce and a half of sugar and a level teaspoonful of baking powder.

Beat an egg with half a teaspoonful of milk, and beat into the other ingredients. Add more milk if too stiff; it should be a soft but thick batter. Stir in some grated lemon rind or other flavouring.

Put half the mixture into a buttered pie dish, cover with plenty of raspberry or other jam, add the rest of the mixture, and bake in a hot oven for half an hour or longer, until well risen, golden brown, and firm to the touch.

U.S. TRIPS FOR CHILDREN

School Parties To Be Arranged

Visits to the United States by parties of school children from Britain are now being organised for the first time.

Mr. H. W. Barter, secretary of the School Journey Association, will leave in November for the United States and Canada, where he will arrange an exchange of visits by schoolchildren.

"More than 15,000 children have made school journeys to European countries this summer," said Mr. Barter recently. "It is possible that some of these children will go next year to the United States, where contacts have so far been extremely limited."

"We feel that now more than ever the need for understanding between the youth of the great English-speaking nations is vital."

"These exchanges would help to foster this understanding and prove in the years ahead of us a bulwark against the perils of war."

During his trip to America, Mr. Barter will visit school and colleges and meet representatives of teachers' councils, youth movements, and peace organisations.

He will spend some time in New York, Philadelphia, and Washington and in the principal cities of Eastern Canada.

A survey of foreign countries visited this year by British school children reveals that the greatest number went to France.

"Belgium and Denmark were next in popularity to France," said Mr. Barter, "and Norway and Sweden were runners-up."

"The only country which has shown a slump is Germany, as we were forced this summer to abandon a number of trips we had planned owing to anxiety shown by parents and teachers."

LONDON'S NEXT LORD MAYOR

London's next Lord Mayor will be Sir Frank Bowater, a brother of the late Sir Vansittart Bowater, M.P., who was Lord Mayor in 1914. He was elected by the Liverymen of the City Guilds at the Guildhall recently.

Sir Frank is 72. He was elected to the Court of Common Council in 1922, was Sheriff in 1929, and became alderman for the Castle Baynard Ward in 1931. During the war he commanded a battery in France. His son, Captain Noel Bowater, is a representative of the Castle Baynard Ward on the Court of Common Council.
Sir Frank was educated in Manchester, and entered the paper merchant's business founded by his

UNDERGROUND BLOOD DEPOTS FOR BRITAIN

British Scientists Prepared If War Comes

BRITISH SCIENTISTS HAVE BEEN WATCHING CLOSELY the results of the new blood storage and transfusion technique by which thousands of lives are being saved on the Spanish battlefields by British medical men in the units sent out by the Spanish Medical Aid Committee.

A national chain of depots in Britain where blood can be stored for transfusion as required—long the dream of doctors and hospitals—was brought almost within sight amid all the drastic preparations for the emergency which has been averted.

A London reporter was told recently how, if Great Britain is ever involved in another war, the supply and distribution of life-saving human blood will be organized.

Donors, instead of rushing by taxi to the bedside of a dying patient, will report at a central depot to be "drawn"; their blood will be classified, laboratory-treated, and stored in half-pint bottles. A fleet of motor lorries will visit each hospital daily.

Work is expected to begin soon on the construction of an underground reinforced concrete store-room near Cheam, Surrey, on land offered by a London business man.

It is hoped eventually to build a suite of laboratories, bottle-washing and sterilising plant, and houses for the staff.

Mr. P. L. Oliver, secretary of the British Red Cross transfusion service, and one of the blood transfusion pioneers of the country, said: "Of the 2500 blood donors on the panel for London, it is estimated that only about 300 would be available in war time. During the crisis, when hospitals were trying to arrange for an emergency service of donors, one wanted 200 a day. And there are 170 hospitals in London."

Aryan Blood Saved Peace

Aryan blood in Mr. Chamberlain and M. Daladier, the two Prime Ministers, was responsible for the peace agreement reached at Munich. According to Herr Julius Streicher, Germany's Jew Baiter No. 1.

In an article in "Der Stürmer," the anti-Semitic paper, he says: "The voice of blood was the secret of the September 30 agreement."

"How did it happen that the new world war already predicted by world Jewry did not break out?"

"The Aryan blood of Chamberlain and Daladier decided in favour of the God-willed right of the Sudetens, and therefore for the preservation of peace among European nations."

COLDSTREAM GUARDS' BAND TO VISIT U.S.

World's Fair Concerts

The band of the Coldstream Guards is to visit the United States for the first time next year. It will play in the English Garden near the British Pavilion at the New York World's Fair, which opens on April 30.

About 60 bandmen, under the direction of Capt. J. C. Windram, the regiment's Director of Music, will leave for New York early in May. Capt. Windram said:

"Some time ago we received a very cordial invitation from the American Federation of Musicians to visit New York."

"The international situation permitting, and subject to the final instructions of the War Office, the band I shall take out will be almost full strength. In addition to playing at the World's Fair we hope to make a good will tour of the United States."

"This will be the first time that any band of the Brigade of Guards had visited the United States since the war."

father. Later he became a partner with his two brothers, and on the registration of the firm was made managing director. He retired some years ago. In 1930 he received his knighthood for his civic services at the end of his year of office as Sheriff.

CALL FOR SECRETS ACT AMENDMENT

Journalists' Protest

The Institute of Journalists conference, at Keswick recently, unanimously passed a resolution approving action taken by the council in protesting against "unwarranted application of the penal provisions of the Official Secrets Act to journalists in the bona fide pursuit of their duties."

The resolution added that the conference was profoundly dissatisfied with the Home Secretary's statement to the Institute, and pledged itself to work unremittently for an amendment which would restrict the operation of the Acts to cases involving the safety of the realm, as was the intention of Parliament.

The conference requested the council to "give full support, legal and financial, to any member proceeding against under the existing Act in respect of his professional duties."

Mr. Norman Robson, London, said Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, in the House of Commons gave an undertaking that in future the authorisation to use the Act would be given only in cases where the information disclosed was itself of serious public importance.

"The journalist was not seeking to put himself outside the operations of the law or to secure a privileged position incompatible with the responsibility of common citizenship," Mr. Robson added, "but he did object to being placed in a worse position than any common felon or suspected murderer, who at least was not required to furnish the evidence for the prosecution in advance of his trial."

MENACE OF ACT

Mr. H. A. Taylor, president of the Institute of Journalists, emphasised the wider effects of the application of the Official Secrets Act to the Press in his presidential address to the Institute.

He said that the thoughtful citizen, who valued his liberty would make a profound mistake if, in his reasonable resentment of the policy and methods of certain newspapers, he tolerated this attack upon the freedom of the Press.

"The freedom of the Press," he continued, "was won by great sacrifice, because it was essential to the security of the larger freedom. It is a heritage, not alone of the Press, but of the people of these islands."

"Are we to assume that because democracy rules, the struggle for power, which is the chief theme of centuries of history, is over for ever, and that our freedom will never be challenged?"

"Will no one ever aspire to wrest power from democracy? Is democracy itself incapable of abuse of power?"

"There can surely be no doubt about the answer to these questions, and in calling attention to this invasion of its freedom the Press is sounding an alarm that should be heard and heeded in every quarter where the traditional British love of liberty resides."

It was obvious that, if the present trend continued unchecked, the divergence between Authority and the Press must grow, and the public interest would suffer.

written Mr. M. L. Cape Town, S.A.

Kalzana is a remarkable food containing no drugs whatsoever. In hot countries one's diet and the extent to which one perspires tend to decrease the mineral contents of the body. Many complaints such as irritability, high blood pressure, dizziness, acidity, which are so often ascribed to "the climate" are due largely to this loss of minerals.

When you do not feel as well as you should, start taking Kalzana tablets. They will soon put you right.

INCIDENTS IN CINEMAS

Managers Advised How To Act

Difficulties of dealing with cases of misbehaviour in cinemas without running the risk of an action for assault are discussed by the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association in a pamphlet issued to its members, says the "Daily Telegraph."

Even the laying of a hand on a man's shoulder may constitute assault, it is pointed out. Damages were awarded in a case where action was taken after a woman patron had made a complaint. Managers are advised that, in cases of misbehaviour, they should follow one of two courses. When the proprietor or manager himself sees the incident or incidents, the best course is to ask the offending patron for his name and address and then to prosecute in the courts. Statements should be taken at the same time from the patron annoyed.

If the offending patron refuses to give his name the proprietor has done all he can by asking for it. He is not entitled to use threats or force. If a policeman is handy the incident should be reported and left in the hands of the police.

"USE NO FORCE"

Where the incident takes place in semi-darkness, and there are no witnesses, the manager is advised to invite the offending patron to the office.

He is warned to be careful to use no force, which would lay him open to an action for damages for assault, and to refrain from detaining a patron and thereby risking an action for unlawful detention and false imprisonment.

A patron creating a disturbance may be ejected by using no more force than is reasonably necessary. Even here, concludes the association, the management should, preferably, let the police deal with the situation.

Robert Armstrong In Story Of Waterfront

Robert Armstrong used to be one of the busiest tough guys in films, and one of the most likeable. Hasn't been seen for over six months now and he hasn't been worrying, writes a film correspondent

He's made real estates the first business of his life with films as only a sideline. Now he feels like taking off from building houses.

He'll do Hell Bent for Headlines, a story of the San Francisco Waterfront, for that go-ahead, independent company, Republic.

ECONOMY CAMPAIGN

Fay Bainter found out just how in earnest M-G-M are about the economy campaign. They wanted her to play Joan Crawford's and Margaret Sullivan's acid spinster sister-in-law in The Shining Hour.

But Miss Bainter was asking a weekly five hundred dollars more than she gets at home at Warners. The part is almost as big as those of the two stars.

But M-G-M, known never to spare thousands in the interests of bettering a film, bogged for days at that hundred pounds.

Finally, after a long huddle, they decided the outlay wouldn't break them, so Fay Bainter's in. She's perfectly cast and will give any star stiff competition.

NEW SCREEN FAMILY

Bing Crosby seems to have started a new screen family series all on his own. America has liked Sing, You Sinners so well, Paramount are planning to carry on the adventures of the Beebe family.

Quite in keeping, too, Bing being so much of a family man in real life.

Warners are planning "Give Me a Baby," a story about adoption, due for November production.

The Passion Film, From Manger to Cross, begins a season at the Grotto Hall on September 18.

BOMBED SANDPIPER VISITED

Commander Says Attack Was Not A Mistake

Changsha, October 26.
A Central News representative, visiting the British gunboat H.M.S. Sandpiper, which was bombed by Japanese warplanes on Monday, found that several parts of her superstructure, the funnel and a lifeboat were holed by bomb splinters and two front cabins were wrecked. In an interview which took place in one of the damaged cabins, the Captain of the vessel, Lieut.-Cmdr. W. E. J. Eames, told the representative that the Japanese attack could not have been carried out by mistake as the British ensign was painted distinctly on the superstructure.

The Japanese machines attacking the gunboat were flying at an altitude of about 4,000 feet and the airmen should have clearly observed the ensign at this height, he said.

Furthermore, he continued, the Sandpiper has been in Changsha for 18 months and her movements were communicated to the Japanese. It seems incredible, therefore, that her exact position should have been unknown to the Japanese.

The commander added that the attack was all the more unjustified as there were no Chinese military establishments nearby, but only junks carrying Chinese refugees.

OFFICER'S ESCAPE

He said that altogether 16 bombs were released by the Japanese airmen around the Sandpiper. The nearest landed only 15 yards from the bow and the second nearest 20 yards from the stern. Between 15 and 20 other missiles were dropped within 100 yards.

One British officer on board the vessel had a narrow escape as a bomb splinter, piercing through his cabin, struck the tin helmet on his head.

Touring the Changsha bend, the representative found that over 10 bombs landed in the vicinity of a German firm. One of the missiles nearby made a direct hit on a large Red Cross flag at the courtyard of the firm. Most of the window-panes of the building were shattered. A French woman secretary was cut in the arm by shrapnel.—Central News.

NAZI ACTIVITY IN S.W. AFRICA

Population Highly Concerned

Pretoria, Oct. 26.
A proposal to enable the authorities to deal more effectively with Nazi propaganda is believed to have been discussed yesterday during a long interview between General Hertzog, Prime Minister, and Mr. Conradie, the South West Africa administrator.

After leaving General Hertzog, Mr. Conradie told Reuter that the Union section in South West Africa was seriously perturbed by the confident tone of the German population there, which had become increasingly loud since the Munich Agreement was signed. The Union section, however, was still uncompromisingly hostile to deal with Germany.

It is believed that General Hertzog assured the Administrator that the Union Government had no intention of relinquishing the mandate. The question of South West Africa's defences was also discussed.—Reuter.

PIROW IN LISBON

London, Oct. 26.
The South African Minister of Defence, Mr. Oswald Pirow, will be received by the Portuguese President, Senhor Carmona in Lisbon, to-day. That the colonial question will be discussed is intimated in informed circles.

Mr. Pirow will be the guest of honour at a luncheon to-morrow, members of the Portuguese Cabinet and the South Africa legation also being present.—Transocean.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA AND HUNGARY

Italo-German Jury To Hear Dispute

Prague, Oct. 26.

After deliberating for eight hours yesterday, the Czechoslovak Government decided to submit the Czech-Hungarian dispute to an Italo-German Committee.

Should Hungary demand that Poland be present at the meeting, Czechoslovakia will insist upon Rumania's participation.

It is rumoured that the Czechoslovak Government would be willing to cede the Berehovo district to Hungary but not the Ruthenian districts of Selish, Munkacs and Uhhorod.

Prague, Oct. 26.

It is alleged here that a Czech military plane was attacked and brought down in flames this afternoon by two Hungarian pursuit planes.

The pilot was wounded, and the plane fell seven and a half miles within the Czech frontier.

The attack, state reports, occurred over the Czech town of Velkemeder.—Reuter.

Konrad Henlein has been made major in the Reserve Corps of the German Army.—Transocean.

HITLER IN VIENNA

Vienna, Oct. 26.

Herr Hitler arrived here unexpectedly yesterday from Engeran, in Sudetenland. He spent the afternoon visiting the Kunsthistorisches Museum and the Hofburg. Large crowds cheered him during his drive through the streets of the city.—Transocean.

TONGKAWAN LANDING REPORTS UNFOUNDED

CUSTOMS STAFF EVACUATE

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT).

Macao, October 25.

Rumours that the Japanese had effected a landing at Tongkawan, in Chungshan district, were characterised as unfounded by a Chinese Maritime Customs officer who arrived here from Kongmoon yesterday. The officer stated that he passed through the town on his way to the Portuguese colony and there were no Japanese soldiers in the vicinity.

Several Customs Officers have presumably heading for Canton, evacuated from Kongmoon with their families as a precautionary measure, some having reached Macao on Sunday. Among those who arrived here were Mr. C. Yeh, Mr. C. Y. Lee and Mr. K. P. Cheng.

Commissioner Williams, Tide Surveyor Berkler and Launch Officer Jones, are still remaining at the Kongmoon Station. The stream of refugees into Macao continues, and it is estimated that daily some 8,000 persons have been arriving in the Portuguese Colony during the past four days. Semi-official quarters estimate that Macao's population has been increased by nearly 20,000 during this period. Hundreds already have arrived here by motor buses, which are always crowded, while others have made their way in on foot.

HOUSEHOLD WISDOM

In roasting meat, turn with a spoon instead of a fork, as the latter pierces the meat and lets the juice out.

Never fill a kettle overnight to save time in the morning, or with water direct from the tap. Water that has been in a lead or iron pipe all night is not wholesome.

To get a firm edge to your knitting cast on with double wool, and then knit loosely into the back of stitches on the next row.

Every time the hands are washed rub them over with a little oat-meal while they are half dry. Then finish drying. It will make a wonderful improvement in the hands in a few days.

Round About

The early morning market hour was in full force. Amahs and boys in their house coat and trousers trotted down the streets, stopping now and then to exchange greetings and gossip with friends.

Other household servants walking along the thoroughfare carrying odd assortments of foods dangling on the end of a string. Fish, vegetables, ice, all transported in the same manner. Frequently a marketeer passed by hugging a live fowl in his arm.

Inside the market commerce was at its peak, all the stalls and concessions were surrounded by three and four rows of Chinese customers selecting their produce and attempting to secure the best bargain possible.

In the midst of this clamour and trading a house-boy, in a trance, zig-zagged his way to the sidewalk and through the crowded street heading for home. A chicken was tucked in the crook of his arm and fish with vegetables hung from the string in his hand.

No doubt distant territories and events engrossed his attention. He was oblivious to the people rearing his progress. In bumping his way down the street his fish and vegetables slipped the loop at the end of his string. On he walked, while a Chinese urchin, clad in a house-boy's "to be funny" from the sidewalk. But at least he still had a chicken!

That A Drowning Person Rises Three Times

Even in the least sensational reports of drowning accidents one often sees reference to the fact that the victim "rose for the third time, but unluckily, etc." It is a widely held belief that drowning persons rise three times to the surface, no more and no less.

In point of fact, however, there is no scientific law governing the movements of a drowning person. Many a victim has fallen into the water and gone straight under to drown, while, on the other hand, another, no better able to swim, has struggled for some time to remain upon the surface, rising not three, but half-a-dozen times.

The belief that a drowning person rises three times has arisen purely from the struggle for life. On falling into deep water, the non-swimmer usually begins to fling his arms about the moment he feels himself going down, this action results in his coming to the surface.

No sooner has this happened, however, than he throws up his arms either as a signal for help or in an attempt to force the body out of the water. In any case the result is the same, for the moment the arms are raised above the head, then the body goes under.

The drowning person thereupon struggles once more, and again comes to the surface.

This process cannot be indefinitely repeated, because of rapid exhaustion, and three or four reappearances upon the surface is as much as the normal person can manage. Thus the idea that a drowning person invariably "rises" three times, though non-swimmers struggling for life have been observed to make anything between one and seven reappearances.

LOCAL HOSPITAL SCANDAL

THE HONGKONG PUBLIC has been awaiting with keen anticipation a statement from the Director of Medical Services, with reference to the strong indictment by a jury in the Central Court some days ago of the system of handling dangerous drugs at the Queen Mary Hospital.

It had been expected that Dr. Selwyn-Clarke, the D.M.S., would, after a careful study of the jury's findings and recommendations that a further investigation should be carried out, make some sort of statement to reassure the general public but no statement has been issued and the public, which is keenly interested in the results of the "further investigation," are still waiting to see what action has been taken.

PUBLIC ACTION is a statement to reassure the general public but no statement has been issued and the public, which is keenly interested in the results of the "further investigation," are still waiting to see what action has been taken.

THE FACTS OF THE CASE are that Sung Hui-tai, six-year-old son of a member of the staff of the Central Bank of China, was taken to the Queen Mary Hospital on August 23, for an operation for tonsillitis. An injection of atropine sulphate solution was given to him and also to seven other patients prior to operations. It was stated that all eight "suffered" from suspected atropine poisoning and that the boy died a few hours after his operation.

After a thorough inquiry, the jury found that death had resulted "from the effects of an injection of atropine described as aqueous atropine solution of over-strength; that the said atropine solution was prepared at the Queen Mary Hospital dispensary by Stephen Lee, Ek-lung." A recommendation was made that a further investigation be made JURY'S as to Lee's action so STRONG far as this particular REMARKS incident was concerned, and the jury was "of the opinion that the system of dispensing at the hospital also requires investigation to ensure that a proper record is kept of all medicines dispensed. We find that the system throughout the hospital, so far as the handling of dangerous drugs is concerned, is at fault."

FROM THE EVIDENCE given by the government apothecary, no record was kept of first schedule poisons, but a complete record was

DEUTSCHLAND
FIRE UNDER CONTROLPassengers Out Of Danger

Hamburg, Oct. 26.
The dangerous fire which broke out at a late hour last evening in a hold of the Hamburg-America liner Deutschland when about 200 miles off the coast of Newfoundland was reported shortly before 6 o'clock this morning to be completely under control. The liner's 591 passengers are out of danger.

In response to earlier calls for assistance sent out by Captain Steinicke, several ships reached the Deutschland and offered to stand-by until the 21,046-ton liner is able to proceed on her way to New York, having left Hamburg on October 19.

At one time it was reported that no less than 12 ships were rushing to the assistance of the Deutschland in response to her distress signals. These included the Norwegian steamer Europe, the French steamer Colliamer, the British steamer Traveller, the North German Lloyd liner Bremen and the American liner Manhattan—Transocean.

DOLLAR CO. WORLD
SAILINGS

The first around-the-world sailing from San Francisco under the new time-tables of the reorganized Dollar Line will be the s.s. President Monroe. The President Adams will leave Boston on November 1 and New York on November 4, the first Atlantic coast around-the-world.

kept so far as dangerous drugs were concerned. No particular instructions were given as to the preparation of atropine sulphate solution. With all the money spent on the hospital, one cannot but be appalled at the inefficiency as admitted.

In evidence, Dr. I. Newton, officer in charge of the hospital, said that it was probable that the error on the part of the dispenser GRAINS, may have occurred between grains and grams. AND GRAMS a statement which is not exactly reassuring so far as the general public is concerned.

The instructions to use the atropine solution instead of tablets originated from the Deputy D.M.S. No particular instructions were given as to preparation of the solution as it was one of the simplest to prepare but orders had since been received to resume use of tablets.

ACCORDING TO THE GOVERNMENT APOTHECARY, unqualified assistants were allowed to be employed in dispensaries. Dispensers employed by the Government, however, were qualified and Lee was considered qualified for his work.

A sad lack of supervision was noticeable when the officer in charge of the hospital, Dr. Newton, testified that he had not been consulted before the solution was substituted for the tablets and that LACK OF SUPERVISION of the change until after the fatal case had occurred.

On August 28, after the solution had been administered to the boy, Dr. Newton told Lee to recall immediately all the bottles with the dangerous solution and, on the following morning, Lee said that he had forgotten to do so, forgotten to recall dangerous drugs!

Dr. Newton expressed the belief that it was possible that, in mixing the solution, the dispenser had put in 5 grams of atropine sulphate, which was 19 times the required strength and, when diluted, the solution would work out in the region of ten times the proper strength. How such a mistake could have occurred is beyond the comprehension of the layman.

THAT SUCH AN UNSATISFACTORY STATE OF AFFAIRS should be permitted to exist in the leading hospital in the Colony is not only to be deplored, but is a scandal, everybody will agree. The testimony and the findings of the jury were most damning and the time has come when the public should insist that drastic reforms should be put into effect without delay, for the longer the delay, the less reassured the public will be. A statement from the D.M.S. is accordingly awaited with much interest.

DUKE OF KENT APPOINTED TO
AUSTRALIASucceeds Lord Gowrie
As Governor-General

London, Oct. 26.
It is officially announced that the Duke of Kent has been appointed Governor-General of Australia in succession to Lord Gowrie, who has relinquished his appointment.

The Duke will go to Australia to take over his duties from Lord Gowrie in November, 1939. It is understood that the Duke's stay in Australia will be limited to two or three years because, with the Duke in the Dominion, there is only the Duke of Gloucester left in England to act as the King's deputy and fulfil official functions and engagements.

Reuter learns that the Duchess will accompany her husband, and it is probable that they will take the children—Reuter.

WARMLY WELCOMED

London, Oct. 26.
The appointment of the extremely popular Duke of Kent to the post of Governor-General of Australia has come as a complete surprise and has aroused greatest interest all over England, according to the papers here this morning.

The news of the appointment is prominently featured by all papers which publish numerous photos showing the Duke with his family. It is believed here that the appointment, which was made shortly after the announcement of the King's forthcoming visit to Canada, will be warmly welcomed in all Dominions, particularly in Australia.

Strange to say, the Duke, although having visited many parts of the British Empire, first as a Naval officer, and also later, has never been in Australia.

In 1934 he had planned to visit Australia to attend the Melbourne Centenary celebrations, but the visit was later cancelled and the Duke's elder brother, the Duke of Gloucester, went instead.

FIRST INSTANCE

The papers point out that this is the first instance that a brother of the reigning sovereign has been appointed to the Governor-Generalship of a Dominion and that the Governor-Generalship of Australia has never before been held by a member of the Royal family. It will be recalled that on four previous occasions Governor-Generals have been held by members of the Royal family.

From 1878 to 1883 the Duke of Argyll, son in law of Queen Victoria was Governor-General of Canada, and the Duke of Connaught, brother of King Edward VII, held the same position from 1911 to 1916.

Prince Arthur of Connaught, recently deceased, son of the Duke of Connaught and cousin of King George VI, was Governor-General of South Africa from 1920 to 1923, and the Earl of Athlone, brother of Queen Mary, was his successor from 1923 to 1930.—Transocean.

COMMON ALLEGIANCE

London, Oct. 26.
The "Times" says the appointment is further proof of the deep reality of the ties which bind every part of the Empire to the reigning House and of the significance of that common allegiance to the Throne which is now all-important as an assurance and symbol of unity in diversity.—British Wire- less.

Hello & Goodbye

— BY A.W. HYER —

Residents are dashing homewards to other lands for the winter and holiday season, and quite a few outside of the constant shifting Army and Navy population (the Troopship Lancashire is leaving for London on November 1) are returning from holidaying or business travels.

Imperial Airways

TWO PLANES the "Della" and the "Delphinus" left for Bangkok on Tuesday at 6.30 and 7 a.m.

The genial Captain S. Hoare had the honour of piloting one of the youngest air travellers to leave Hongkong, the one-year-old Master James White who was flying home to London with his parents Captain L. J. M. White and Mrs. Vera White. This well-known Captain in Imperial Airways will be away for three months' vacation in Europe. The Colony is almost home to the family who have spent many years in schooling and business here. We join with the friends and relatives in wishing them a perfect air journey.

The two months of a business visit in Hongkong were filled with events and places never to be forgotten, were the expressed feelings of Mr. M. Lundenburg who took passage on the Tuesday morning plane for Bangkok.

Aerial surveys and inspection of conditions for the Dutch Government brought this very tall Dutchman to our land. However, no definite information was forthcoming about the proposed internal China air route for K.L.M. which this gentleman was investigating.

Transshipping to K.L.M. in Bangkok this traveller will be happy to rejoin his family in Amsterdam this week-end.

S.S. Felix Roussel

THE LARGE WHITE and spacious "Felix Roussel" arrived yesterday morning from southern ports and Europe. Madame Flora Grambe will be visiting with us for a few weeks, on a tour of the Orient out from Paris.

The charming French woman has the annals of the law at her finger tips being one of the ranking attorneys in the French city. It is a pleasure to welcome you and trust you enjoy Hongkong.

Stopping by for a "hello" and visit was another French Line arrival Mr. P. Atkinson, of the Texas Oil Company. Saigon was his port of embarkation and, after a short visit, he will return to his desk in the Shanghai office of his firm.

M.V. Potsdam

TIME OUT WHILE we catch the "Potsdam" passengers coming and going though that motor vessel is well on her way to Europe.

Sentence of four months' hard labour was imposed on Li Mar, 27, unemployed, who pleaded guilty before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday to the charge of snatching a handbag from a woman in Queen's Road West on Tuesday.

FUND FOR CZECH REFUGEES

The latest figure of the Lord Mayor's Fund for the relief of refugees in Czechoslovakia is £228,000, says British Wireless.

TUESDAY'S HEALTH

The health returns for Tuesday show four cases of cholera, four of dysentery, two of enteric fever, three of diphtheria and one case each of measles, cerebro-spinal meningitis and puerperal fever.

Back from several weeks of business in Shanghai returned the pleasant Mr. J. J. Wong, executive of the Bank of Canton, to his office in the Colony.

The well-known Mr. Richard Halliburton came down from Japan. He was met by the majority of his American crew who are to sail to the San Francisco 1939 Exhibition in a Chinese junk. Naturally, the experiences and the days of travel across the Pacific Ocean will be put in book form.

In the meantime before departure the date of which is not yet set, this author will renew his acquaintance with the Colony which he has not visited since 1932.

The commuters arrived again on another business visit to the British American Tobacco Ltd. offices in Hongkong. Mr. L. C. Cousin and Mr. K. Savage, directors of this concern, came down from the Shanghai office via the "Potsdam."

South and Germany Bound

THE NIGHT SAILINGS of the Norddeutscher Lloyd Line's vessels is always a happy and gay occasion. Everyone comes down to the pier for a glass of the famous German beer and the general party which comes off the last hour before departure.

Mrs. A. B. Park who left for Manila and the present family residence, had a pleasant three weeks' stay here. This charming American lady will join her husband, a director in the American Asiatic Underwriters Association, in the South on his return from a quick air trip to London.

The very nice Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Starke, of the Luft Hansa Company, were away for a well earned holiday after two years of labour for their concern in Yunnan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ketcham who stopped by on their way from Shanghai to visit friends were given a great send-off when they departed for Belawan where Mr. Ketcham will be connected with the National City Bank of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cross were Southampton and holiday bound when they waved adios to many friends on the pier as the m.v. Potsdam pulled away for Manila.

To-day:

AIR FRANCE plane will be in from Hanoi with passengers and mail before the noon hour. The P. and O. Rawalpindi will arrive from London this morning.

VEGETABLES FROM MACAO, PO ON

With a vast quantity of fruits and vegetables being gradually shipped from Po On and Macao, the market price of the above commodities has dropped remarkably. The price of vegetables on Tuesday showed a decrease of 3 to 7 cents to that of the day before. It is revealed that yesterday morning the Sui Tai, Tin Yat and Kuo Tung of the Macao-Hongkong Line, arrived here with a big cargo of fish, fruits and vegetables.

BROADCAST TALK ON REFUGEE CAMP

A few days later when one of the refugees received some kindness from one of the lady helpers she turned up at the Welfare Workers' Hut a few minutes later with a hen which she deposited on the floor as a thank offering. It is still the mascot of the Hut.

GREATEST HARSHSHIP

The shortage of clothing, especially in the first nights, which were very chilly, was the greatest hardship after their arrival, and that is why we asked for blankets and clothes. These came in abundance, and since then no one suffers from cold. Other things that we asked for, such as milk, came in generous quantities also, and many people showed wonderful thoughtfulness and ingenuity in their gifts.

I do not like to single out any particular donors where there were so many, but I hope that the names of all the individuals and organisations that contributed to the comfort of the refugees will appear in the lists that are being published regularly in the papers. The generosity of the sympathisers with the refugees really overwhelmed us.

One group sent several hundred bundles of towels, another brought excellent mats to sleep on, another offered to supply the meals to all the workers in the camp, another brought a supply of bean curd, and so on. There was a kindness and sympathy running through all these efforts to help that made the gifts of far more value than their mere intrinsic worth.

WORD OF EXPLANATION

I am afraid that some people were disappointed, and a few angry, when they were not allowed to visit the camp, and some were very indignant when consignments of perishable food could not be accepted at Kam Tin. I should like to offer a word of explanation about this.

In the early stages of organising a camp of several thousand people there is no room for any consideration but the welfare of the inmates. At Kam Tin hundreds were going and coming daily. A great many needed personal care, a great many needed reassurance that they were not going to be arrested or interned, and a great many needed medical assistance.

All needed direction as to where they should take up their quarters and where they should store their goods, and all needed instruction as to the hours of meals and the general arrangements of the camp. All these details, small in themselves, when added to the regular duties of the camp, occupied fully the time of the welfare workers, and that is why it was found necessary to ask visitors to refrain from going to the camp.

If visitors go they naturally want to ask questions and to get

JAPANESE OFFENSIVE REPULSED

Scores Of Japanese Killed

Nanchang, Oct. 26. A battle raged to the north of Tehan, on the Nanchang-Kiukiang Railway, yesterday when the Japanese made another attempt to take the town but were again repulsed.

About 700 Japanese troops of the 101st Division launched an attack on the Chinese positions north of the town from the east and north early in the morning. The Chinese put up stiff resistance and killed many Japanese.

About noon 100 Japanese troops crossed the Teh River to the south bank under a protective barrage. They were immediately surrounded and annihilated.

The Japanese attack was repulsed toward evening.

A later report from the front states that whilst the main body of the Chinese troops was resisting the Japanese frontal attack, a Chinese unit cut the Japanese rear by a detour. About 200 Japanese troops were subjected to an enveloping attack by this unit.

Scores of them were killed and a considerable quantity of Japanese ammunition was seized.—Central News.

PREPARATIONS BY GERMANY IN THE RECENT CRISIS

Berlin, Oct. 26. In a broadcast by an official of the War Ministry, it was declared that ten army corps and 500 planes were ready to invade Czechoslovakia during the recent crisis.

An equally strong force was kept in readiness in case Czechoslovakia resisted. Anti-aircraft batteries were stationed round the Czech frontier and Czech and Soviet planes would have found it difficult to enter German territory.

Preparations to ward off air attacks from other directions were also made.—Reuter.

explanations, and there was really no time for that—the refugees needed all the time and attention, and most of the voluntary workers did double an eight hours day.

BREAD DECLINED

It seemed to some people little short of criminal that food, such as bread, should have been declined at the camp. That had to be done in a few cases, because the supply already in stock was more than could be used. We tried to give the fullest publicity to the fact that no perishable food was required, and when we had a surplus we turned it over to other centres of food distribution in the city.

I think I can honestly say that on the part of all concerned with the camp nothing but the interest of the distressed people was considered, and no sacrifice on their part was thought too great. That this was appreciated by the refugees themselves was indicated by the fact that from among them volunteers came forward to offer their services even before they were asked.

It is our hope ultimately to have most of the work in the camp done by the refugees themselves, and we have much more hope of succeeding in this aim when the initiative has been taken by them.

PREVENTIVE WORK

A few people have spoken sarcastically of this work for the refugees and of those engaged in it, saying that there were needy people also in the Colony and that it was strange that nothing of this kind was ever done for them. Without entering into any comparison of the respective urgency of each form of distress, let me point out that, even from the point of view of the poor of Hongkong, this care of the refugees was preventive work of the highest value.

If several thousand additional needy people had been allowed to look after themselves as best as they could, it is not only they but also our own poor who would have suffered.

POOR WILL BENEFIT

In the end, too, I think that our local poor will benefit by this work for the refugees. How long the refugees' problem will last, no one can tell, but it is not yet over. It will certainly continue for many months and I am sure that the same generosity which you have

Harrowing Experience Related In Colony

MACHINE-GUNNED NEAR TSENGSHING AREA

AFTER A HAZARDOUS JOURNEY, seven members of the Hongkong Chinese First Aid Corps have returned here to tell their harrowing experience in the fighting areas in Kwangtung when on one occasion they were attacked by Japanese vanguards, in the suburbs of Tsengshing.

The seven members, including a girl, belonged to a corps of 39 sent from Hongkong to Canton last month for first aid work. Upon the Japanese landing at Blas Bay the corps was divided into two groups. One group was dispatched to Tungkun and Po On and the other to Tsengshing.

The latter comprising twelve men and eight girls left for Tsengshing with several trucks and ambulances on October 10. Arriving at the outskirts there about midnight the next day, they encountered a unit of Japanese vanguards, who machine-gunned them. The truck in front was hit and set on fire and the driver was instantly killed.

All members jumped from their cars and scattered in various directions. After the departure of the Japanese, seven of them who hid themselves in the paddy fields came together and found that their other comrades had gone.

After climbing over a hill in the dark, the seven members reached the Tsengshing-Canton highway at dawn. They walked to Canton.

Arriving in Canton on the afternoon of October 21, they found Canton practically deserted by civilians. No sooner had they crossed the Pearl River Bridge to the Honam side than they heard a loud explosion dynamiting the bridge.

From Honam they took a boat to Shekwanlong. On their way they heard intermittent explosions in Canton city. From Shekwanlong they proceeded to Fatahan and thence to Shekkl and Macao. They came to Hongkong from Macao by boat.

They believed that all others of their group are safe and are coming to Hongkong too.—Central News.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Draft Discussed By British Cabinet

London, Oct. 26. Political circles here are keenly interested in the Cabinet Council held on Wednesday morning in the course of which it is believed that important decisions were taken alike in respect of new appointments within the Cabinet and of home policy in general and in respect of foreign policy.

Informed quarters state that the Cabinet discussed the draft of the speech from the Throne which will be delivered by King George on the occasion of the reassembling of Parliament on November 8. This speech, it is expected, will outline the Government's programme regarding national service to be organised in the interests of national defence.

It is also expected that the speech will deal with the problem of Anglo-Italian relations as it presents itself after the withdrawal of 100,000 Italian volunteers from Spain, but informed quarters decline to comment on reports that the Anglo-Italian Agreement will come into force during the first week of November.—Transocean.

shown up to this time will continue as long as the claims of suffering humanity demand it.

I should like you to realise that the appeals which we are making for the refugees are not merely for those in Kam Tin camp, but for all those who will be given refuge in the camps which the Government is preparing. The welfare work in all these camps is being entrusted to the Emergency Refugee Council, and we shall want everything that you can give to make the lives of these destitute people happier and more usefully spent while they are with us.

PERMANENT EFFORT

I feel sure too that the sympathy which you have shown to the poor refugees who came amongst us will not be denied to the poor who belong to us. I believe that from this generous effort of charity there will come a permanent effort which will henceforth make easier the lot of the poor in our midst. All I think, feel that the Social Services of the Colony are not proportionate either to our wealth or our poverty.

It is the value of volunteer social services that they pay the way for public services, and I believe that this splendid effort of social service created by the help, and with the fullest support, of the people of Hongkong will lead ultimately to greater care of the poor and the distressed in the Colony.

Lastly, I think that this opportunity of helping our brothers from across the frontier will unite Hongkong and China in bonds of sympathy closer than ever existed before. Suffering breaks down many barriers and contact in suffering is the source of many friendships. We have been united in sympathy during the past week as perhaps never before. I do not think that the bond which this sympathy has forged will easily be broken.

CONTEMPORARY CHINESE ART

Exhibition Preview Yesterday

CARTOONS, POSTERS

The exhibition of contemporary Chinese art that is being sent abroad to England, Russia, France and the United States was previewed by about 50 people at the offices of the China Information Service yesterday.

Organised by the National Federation of Chinese Artists, Mr. Jack Chen was delegated to collect the work and will be in charge of it on his tour of these countries where he is scheduled to lecture on the Chinese situation.

The work included shows contemporary woodcuts, cartoons, posters, drawings, water colour paintings and paintings in classical Chinese style. It is designed to show the wide range of present-day Chinese art—its essentially realistic and democratic trend; it also shows the unity of Chinese artists who with the people are determined to struggle against the Japanese invaders till they are expelled. This is a reflection of the unanimity of all Chinese cultural forces in support of resistance.

Work has been gathered from Hankow, Sian, Yunnan Canton. Hongkong artists members of the Hongkong Working Artists' Guild have contributed particularly in the classical section. Noteworthy is the work by Mr. Fan Su-yao and Mr. Chu Shu-hong leading Hongkong art teachers. Madame Martin who has introduced modern methods of art study in the Beilios School contributes the work of some of her pupils.

Modern trends in Chinese art show a vitality of spirit that leaves no doubt of the bright future of Chinese culture as soon as the reign of physical and cultural terror of the Japanese has been ended and the work of reconstruction is resumed.

Shanghai, Oct. 26.

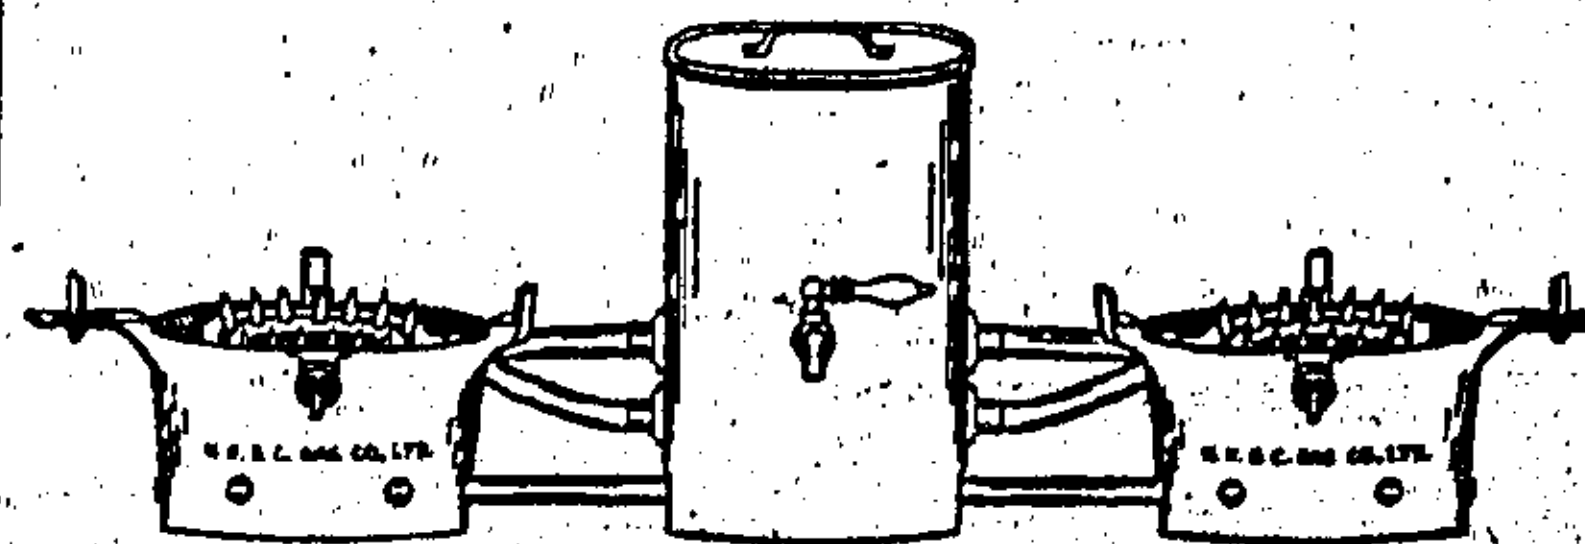

It is learned from reliable sources that part of the United States contingent of troops stationed in the International Settlement in Shanghai since the outbreak of hostilities will shortly be withdrawn.

It is understood that this step is being taken in view of the great reduction in danger to American subjects in Shanghai as a result of the Japanese action in clearing the area of Chinese troops. The Shanghai Municipal authorities have been duly informed.

The American contingent at present in the International Settlement numbers some 1,500 as compared with approximately 800 British and 600 Italians. The other foreign troops are French who are only concerned with the French Concession.—Reuter.

EXCITING FINISH SEEN IN "TREVESA" TROPHY

Cremer Life Boat Crew Win By A Minute

THE RACE BETWEEN NINE SHIPS' LIFE BOATS for the "Trevesa" Trophy yesterday was won by the life boat of the K.P.M. Line's m.v. Cremer after a thrilling race to the finishing line with two life boats of the B. and S. s.s. Wuchang.

The Cremer life boat, with Mr. Boomsma as cox, had to resort to the oars as a wind that favoured the two Wuchang boats gradually narrowed the gap between Mr. Boomsma's life boat and the life boats of Captain P. Green and Mr. R. A. Smith. Mr. Boomsma and his crew were the victors by just about a minute.

Captain P. Green and his crew were second and Mr. R. A. Smith and his crew, third. Fourth, and the only other life boat to finish, was the Jardine Hin Sang's life boat, with Mr. Munro as cox.

A fresh breeze started the nine life boats on a course that only four of them were to complete.

The Cremer and Wuchang boats were practically level as they sailed past the first mark, the Kowloon Rocks.

LEAD INCREASED

The Cremer boat then began to pull away, gradually increasing its lead. Then came trouble. The Cremer had sailed away from the wind.

As the Cremer boat approached the finishing line it was clear

SPORTS FLASHES

(BY F. MELA)

LAST YEAR THERE WAS some talk about a Schools' cricket league being formed and unless I am very much mistaken one of the local sports stores even went as far as offering to put up a trophy. Perhaps if the schools showed enough interest a competition may still be organised.

AND WHILE ON THE SUBJECT of schools' cricket, the person who has done most to encourage the game amongst the youngsters is undoubtedly Jimmy Youngs of the Diocesan Boys' School. "G. R. Sayer," who was Director of Education here, used also to take a lot of interest in it and captained a schools' team every year against the Combined League.

THE GREAT PITY ABOUT cricket in local schools is that more Chinese boys cannot be persuaded to play. It was even worse some years ago when they regarded it as a definitely dangerous pastime. And yet they think nothing of breaking an ankle at football or risk being hit by a baseball ball!

THE SCHOOLS FOOTBALL league that used to be held annually some years ago proved a failure in that competition was so keen at times that it led to "disturbances." That was why the authorities very wisely decided to abolish the league altogether but one can hardly imagine a fight on a cricket field. That would not be cricket!

TALKING ABOUT ORGANISED GAMES, tennis is popular enough amongst the schools to warrant a league being organised. The "Tul" brothers were very keen schoolboy enthusiasts, before they joined the Chinese Recreation Club, having first learned how to handle a tennis racket at Queen's College.

THE GIRLS MUST NOT BE neglected and they can be provided for by organised tennis, hockey, basket-ball, volley-ball matches etc., being arranged between schools. There are enough games played in the local schools to satisfy anybody but there is a lack of organised inter-schools games. Let us have more of these!

ROYAL SCOTS' CLOSE WIN

The Royal Scots hockey team had a very keen fight against the Kumaon Rifles when they met at Sookunpo yesterday and it was not till after extra time had been played that they were able to break through and score. Pte. Meikle being the marksman.

Play was very fast throughout, the ball being carried up and down the field in rapid succession. The stickwork on the part of both sets of forwards was good and the standard of play, on the whole, very high.

Norwich City 2, Southampton 1.

Before Norwich's win recently, which won them away from the bottom of the table—Chairman J. F. Wright had two problems—how to expand the 33,000 holding capacity of the Carrow-road ground for the King's visit to see the match against Millwall, and how much to bid for a certain First Division centre forward.

Now he has only one problem. Centre-forward Ware, who has been out of the team this season with cartilage trouble, had a successful rival that a transfer deal is off.

It was appropriate that Ware should score the winning goal near the end of a game that seemed certain to be a draw. Mander scored their first goal with a short-ranger after elaborate dribbling by Furness.

Southampton's equaliser came within two minutes from a header by right-half Parkin. Reference: P. S. V. Reed (London).

SOFTBALL NOTES

TWO SURPRISES IN LEAGUE

(BY R. O. Y.)

Excellent displays, by supposedly weak teams, were the feature of last Sunday's softball games. Of three matches played, two resulted in surprise victories for the Hongkong English Forum and the 3rd Machine Gun Coy., over the Filipino Club and Canadian Chinese Club, respectively.

MIDGETS & HONGKONG? The Midgets were given a rare fright by the Baseballers, but eventually managed to scrape home by the barest margin possible, to retain the league leadership. Herbie Quon was visibly affected by the stricter application of the pitching rules, but received first class support from his team-mates, of whom, Sammy Wong and Chang were outstanding.

To the Baseballers, must be given full honours in their glorious defeat, Dave Walker was the stand-out, getting three of his team's six hits, to take batting honours.

ENGLISH FORUM 14, FILIPINOS 8. The Filipino Club, touted to be one of the strongest of local teams, received a rude shock when the Forumers pranced into a seven run lead in the fourth inning and added four more tallies in the fifth; despite a great rally in the last two innings, the Filipinos were still six runs behind when the last put-out was made.

For the winners, Kitchell and Young were the best of an even team; Paulino and Bautista shone for the boys from Manila, but both Amer and Loyola, their hurlers, were obviously taking illegal pitching positions. Manager Idefonso will have to work hard to have these defects ironed out, before their next appearance.

MACHINE GUN COY. 5, CANADIAN CHINESE 1.

The Gunners were responsible for the biggest upset of the day, when they held the Canadian Chinese to a single tally while themselves garnering five tallies on but three hits. Willie Rapley, on the mound, was erratic at the start and walked five batters, but improved as the game went on, and earned the distinction of pitching the first no hit game of the season. Emil Porter, with a sterling display at the initial bag, was largely responsible for this win which gave the Gunners joint league leadership. The Canadians were most disappointing and missed the services of Kassa Nazarin. Al Lau was the only member of his team to show his usual form.

CHINESE GIRLS 29, FILIPINO GIRLS 14.

Despite the large difference in the final scores, the ladies' game was quite close, until the Chinese girls went on a rampage in the last inning to register 18 runs. The Filipino Girls played very well

H.M.S. EAGLE WIN AT RUGBY

Club "A" Unlucky To Be Beaten

(BY ROBIN)

Making a splendid recovery after Saturday's defeat at the hands of the Navy, the Club "A" XV were unlucky to lose to H.M.S. Eagle by six points to three at the Valley yesterday. All points were registered from penalty kicks.

The game was fast, with clean passing and handling.

Elliott, of the Eagle, gave a fine display and scored the Navy's points.

Carruthers was the best three-quarter in the Club line. His tackling drew much applause. Thompson was rather shaky in his handling, which broke up many a fine run.

The opening goal came from a foul just outside the Club's 25-yard line. Elliott added the points and at half-time the Club were leading 3-0.

Club added points from Henderson's penalty kick, just after the interval, shortly after which the Navy had another penalty kick taken by Elliott.

The teams were:—

H.M.S. EAGLE: Hunt; Thomas, Bayley, Corin, Bethell; Elliott, Mead; Thatcher, Lumsden, Romans; Little, Hain; Jeffries, Staples and Hughes.

CLUB "A" XV: J. Brown; H. F. Hopkins, M. O. Carruthers, F. M. Thompson, K. A. Munro; F. Cessford, J. R. Henderson; W. Stoker, J. S. Dunnett (Captain), W. A. Johnson; R. E. H. Nelson, B. Hynes; G. L. Eastgate, P. W. Burton and H. W. E. Heath.

EXCELLENT YEAR REPORTED

St. Mary's School Prize Day

A year of excellent school work was reviewed in the report of the Headmistress, Mother Agnes, at the prize giving of St. Mary's School yesterday. A large gathering of parents and friends of the students filled the school hall to capacity.

Prior to the distribution of prizes by Mr. G. P. de Martin, M.B.E., the students presented a play "Full Circle," which was splendidly acted and very well received.

Among those present were Bishop H. Valtorta, Rev. Fr. E. Bruzzone, Fr. A. Rossello, Fr. O. Litteratore, Fr. Feroldi, Fr. J. Pedrazzini, Fr. H. Dalmasso, Fr. MacDonald, S.J., the Rev. Mother Superior Consuela Teresa Martinola, the Rev. Mother Teresa Zamboni, Regional of Hongkong, Mr. C. G. Solis (Director of Education) and Mr. and Mrs. G. P. de Martin.

The report of Mother Agnes, Headmistress of the School, was read by the Rev. Fr. Granelli, and was as follows:—

With the opening of the new school year, teachers and pupils found themselves deprived of the enlightened and wise guidance of the Rev. Mother Louise, who for nine years had been the Headmistress of St. Mary's. They all miss her greatly, though they realize that in her present higher position, she has been given a wider sphere of action. The staff and pupils wish to convey to her on this occasion the tokens of their deepest gratitude, for all that they owe to her.

In September, 1937, 683 pupils were on roll, but by April, the number of pupils had increased to 712.

All our pupils of Class I passed the matriculation examination, two with distinction in English; and all the pupils of Class 2 passed the local school leaving certificate examination, six obtaining honours.

A characteristic feature of the past school year has been a new impulse given to the circulating library. It was increased by more than 300 volumes and the pupils were strongly encouraged to read regularly and intelligently.

A gloomy school would indeed be that in which study and reading were the sole occupation, but ours is not so. Mr. C. G. Solis on his visit to the school in November, 1937, remarked that there was a cheerful and bright atmosphere.

This is due, above all, to the friendly intercourse between teachers and pupils, but also to the regular physical training lessons and numerous games. Net ball is a favourite game with our pupils and they had several matches during the year. Both senior and junior teams won against the C. B. S. in January.

In April, we celebrated Mother's Day with a physical training display—Miss Leung Wai-sung, the instructress, achieving great success.

CHARITIES
When we see in our school so many girls (850 at present) equally happy, carefree and friendly with each other, ready to take part in all activities and sports, we cannot help thinking that many of them, who come from very poor families, would have no chance of any education were it not for Christian charity, which allows them to stand on the same footing with the more well-to-do students. To this end, the school has remitted school fees amounting to $6,700 during the past year.

The help given by the St. Vincent de Paul's and Benevolent Societies has made it possible for a greater number of poor scholars to be admitted to the school.

WAR RELIEF
Great interest has also been taken by our girls in activities directed to helping the war-wounded and the refugees.

Several shows have been organized for war relief by our past pupils, and, during the year, a red cross on a white box on the teacher's desk continually reminded the girls of their suffering fellow-men and of their duty towards them. About $500 collected from these boxes have been handed over to War Relief Committees.

In August, though it was holiday time, the girls were recruited for the International Medical Relief Society's flag day and their collection amounted to $763.

Also during the holidays, some of the pupils helped in the Soup Kitchen for refugees at Sumshul-po.

INSPECTION
Mr. C. G. Solis, acting Director of Education, visited the School on November 29 and 30, 1937. In his report, he speaks of the arrangement of the different classes and then he says: "In the Classes 3, 7, and 8, there is a number of girls

"KEEPING FIT" PAGEANT

Lord Mayor's Show In London

London, Oct. 26.
The central feature of the Lord Mayor of London's show on November 9 will be a pageant entitled "Keeping Fit through the Ages," and will illustrate methods by which fitness may be cultivated by the individual.

Another spectacular part of the procession will be given to those services which have become necessary adjuncts to the defence programme.

The City of London will also stage a representation of air raid precautions service. This year the Lord Mayor's escort will be supplied for the first time, by a detachment of Household Cavalry.

recently admitted from Chinese Schools, but attention has been paid to grading them and no class appears to contain pupils of unduly disparate attainments. Class 8C is meant to be a special class for older girls from Chinese schools, and the time table has been adjusted to allow extra time for English.

"All classes do physical training for one hour weekly."

"The staff is adequate and the building is good. There is a playing field adjacent."

Since Mr. Solis's visit to the school, a flat of three class rooms and a music room, have been added to the building of the junior school and were occupied in September.

The pupils are now busy preparing presents for the St. Vincent de Paul Bazaar and an inter-class dramatic competition.

We thank Mr. and Mrs. de Martin for their great kindness in coming here to-day to give away the prizes, and all who have honoured us with their presence here this evening.

MR. DE MARTIN'S REMARKS

After distributing the prizes, Mr. de Martin told the children how glad he was to find himself in St. Mary's again. It was like coming home. He knew their mothers 25 years before. He referred gratefully to the many kindnesses he and his wife had received from the Cantonese Sisters and mentioned Mother Luigia who had been transferred to a larger field of usefulness.

He was glad that in addition to working well and playing well they had been taught to help other people who were less fortunate than themselves. He noticed that St. Mary's had remitted fees amounting to $6,700. There were more free places in Hongkong than many people thought.

Last year in Government and Grant-in-Aid schools the fees remitted cost $147,000 and there were also many external scholarships. He hoped that there would be in all schools an increased remission of fees in favour of those poor children who had shown that they could make good use of them.
